Professional Services

OneSource specialist consultants can help customers to integrate OneSource data, other third-party data and their own data into a CRM system, portal, intranet or other in-house application using Applink API technology and proprietary content matching tools. First the team defines the business need and designs the best solution to meet customers' objectives. Once agreed, it then develops and implements the customized solution. OneSource's professional services team specializes in project management, database architecture, API development and web integration. For Business Browser customers the team also offers customized registration, log-on, usage reports and training.

Solutions include:

Data Services

OneSource offers data services that provide analysis and augmentation of customers' own internal databases. Firstly, we diagnose the health of the data with expert quality analysis and evaluation. Then we optimize both company and industry data by completing records, filling in missing information and de-duping. By normalizing data across multiple internal databases, customers are assured of more consistent and more productive searches.

Data Extraction

OneSource is able to create extracts of business information in a predefined format, whether needed to create marketing campaign lists and territory lists or simply to integrate information into a customer database.

Match & Append

Enables customers to quickly match internal customer and prospect information with OneSource's depth and breadth of business information. Data can then be refreshed and enhanced with selections from OneSource's data.
